

GERMAN FORCES ARE IN DIRE PERIL

ENEMY LINE CRUMBLES EVERYWHERE BEFORE HEAVY ALLIED ATTACK

British Take Advantageous Positions and Many Towns With Their Own Shells

BULLETIN WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—The British have captured the town of Croisilles northeast of Bapaume and obtained control of all village and Felves, east of Arras. To the southeast patrols have entered Remy and Haucourt, while southwest of Peronne the British have taken Fay and Ablaincourt.

BULLETIN BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—Reuter's.—Hard fighting continued today. Canadian troops delivered another attack in the course of the morning on a fan-like front of about five miles evenly flanking the Arras-Cambrai road. This fighting is carrying them right in the main artery of the Hindenburg line.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—On both sides of the Scarpe river hard fighting continued today. The British launched fresh attacks and wresting from the enemy additional valuable stretches of ground, many more advantageous positions and numerous towns, including Croisilles.

In the center of the wide battle field on which the first, third and fourth British armies are operating there seems to be a slight pause.

South of the Scarpe the British without much difficulty for the Germans had pressed south of these points by French were ready to go with slight pressure.

Since early this morning storm after storm has been sweeping across this section of France but forces in the north have driven deep into the enemy defenses, swathing with their fire hordes of the huns. These huns had been thrown into the fighting in this section in an effort to keep the British from penetrating the famous Quent-Drocourt switch line which formed the northern continuation of the old Hindenburg line after the British last year beat the Germans back from Arras.

South of the Scarpe, Canadians captured Felves after brisk street fighting and pushing eastward advanced patrols entered Remy and Haucourt. The British are well east of Fontaine and the main body of the Germans has retired from Houdencourt eastward.

Extremely heavy fighting is in progress south of Lens across the Scarpe river to the Arras-Cambrai road, but the British are making progress everywhere beating down the German resistance.

All sorts of troops have been hurled into battle south of the Scarpe as well as north of that river but many formations have been finished off almost as soon as they appeared. The ground over which the advance was made today is covered with large numbers of German dead. Just south of the Scarpe one place was carpeted with bodies in field grey. There was also very heavy fighting in the Croisilles region before and after that town was stormed and captured this forenoon. Fierce fighting has been reported from Croisilles Ridge and the beaten Germans are said to be retreating from Bullecourt and the country to the north and south.

Sanguinary losses have been inflicted on the Germans in all the fighting in this general region. British guns placed back of Croisilles have had the retreating Germans at many places, particularly in the neighborhood of Houdencourt under direct fire.

Enemy Short of Reserves With the British Army in France, Aug. 28.—(Reuter.)—How hard the enemy is off for reserves may be gathered from the fact that the 148th regiment of the 41st division disappeared in the battle line during the defense of Cappy on the south bank of the Somme, although this division lost 2,250 men made prisoner at Warfussen between Aug. 8 and Aug. 10 and was withdrawn as no longer fit to fight.

Prisoners taken this week say that during one of the British bombing raids the headquarters of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was struck and that among the casualties was a general of the Pioneers and a staff captain. Rupprecht was absent at the time.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE FIELD, Aug. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—5 p. m.—French cavalry this morning entered Nesle. French infantry occupied the town of Cressey, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Nesle.

The French third army captured Dives and, pushing on to the eastward, reached the outskirts of Noyon. The retreat of the Germans was much quickened at some parts of the front to the east of Noyon where the entry into action of German guns of all calibers slackened the French pursuit.

Retreat North of Arras. With the French Armies in France, Aug. 28.—Afternoon.—(By The Associated Press.)—The German retreat north of the Arras river has been far more speedy since the fall of Chaumes than previously. Vigorously pursued by French troops and harassed by their own mustard gas shells which they left behind and which are being fired from German guns by French gunners the enemy is making haste to cross the river Ingon in the region of Nesle and the Canal du Nord.

General DeBene's men without great opposition advanced four and a half miles during the night and this morning their cavalry was upon Nesle, close on the heels of the retreating enemy. The pursuit toward the Canal du Nord slackened this morning when the enemy's artillery of all calibers maintained a heavy fire from strong positions west of the canal. After Chaumes fell, Gommecourt to the north and Sept Fours were taken by the French while later Cressey, Champen and Roilize between Nesle and Roye, were captured and more than a score of other villages occupied. The French third army this morning occupied Dives and pushed eastward to Vauchelles, less than half a mile from Noyon the fall of which appears only a question of hours if the French so elect.

With the French in possession of Noyon the Germans will have only their positions to the north in the hills along the Oise and in the northwest on the west bank of the Canal du Nord to protect their retreat to the forest of St. Gobain and the Hindenburg line. It is not considered possible that the German retreat will halt on the Oise so close are the French pressing the enemy.

French patrols reached the regions of Bethancourt this afternoon. The crossing of the canal and the river Somme in that region by the French troops would prove the greatest menace to the safety of the enemy's troops and material still south of the river.

Americans Co-operate Paris, Aug. 28.—(Havas.)—According to advices received from the Aisne battle front, this afternoon French troops in co-operation with American forces continue to make progress northwest of Soissons in the direction of Chavigny.

The German forces have been thrown into disorder by the advance of the French troops toward the river Somme. The retreat of the enemy in the direction of the east and the northeast on the whole front held by the French troops between Chaumes and Noyon is being accelerated by the armies of Generals DeBene and Humbert.

Leave Large Areas. With the French in France, Aug. 28.—(Reuter.)—The Germans in retreating left large quantities of munitions behind them especially in Roye.

The French are approaching the canal at Bethencourt, Cressey, Ognolles and Evicully. General Humbert's army resuming its advance today, reached Vauchelles, two miles from Noyon, the fall of which is imminent.

Americans Make Gains. With American Forces on the Vesle Aug. 28.—4 p. m.—(By The Associated Press.)—Fighting between American troops and German forces continued all night in the region of Bazoches to the east of Fismette. Early this morning the Americans secured a foothold on the eastern outskirts of the town.

Some German snipers and machine gunners are stubbornly clinging to the northern edge of Bazoches, using cellars and vaults of houses for protection. American and French big

WAR SUMMARY

News of Activities On Various Battle Fronts in Summarized Form By Associated Press.

The Germans facing the allied forces from Arras to Soissons everywhere are in dire peril. On almost every sector of the battle front the enemy line continues to crumble before the allied attack notwithstanding the violence, borne of desperation, of the counter offensive tactics.

Near Arras the old Hindenburg line now is well outflanked; from the Scarpe to the Somme the hostile line is gradually falling back, while from the south of the Somme to Soissons the enemy front has literally been smashed and the German hosts are caught in two distinct traps, escape from which without heavy losses in men made prisoner and guns and material captured seems almost impossible of achievement.

Scores of additional towns have been captured by the British, French and American troops, the Americans having entered the fray with the French northwest of Soissons, while all of the German salients in the allied line now have been flattened out and the allies themselves have dug deeply into the enemy's terrain. The first trap in which the enemy finds himself is the triangle formed by the sharp curve of the Somme river with Peronne its apex and with Curly on the Somme and Frenes, respectively, its northern and southern bases. This triangle is a little more than three miles wide and in it the Germans are fighting with their backs toward the Somme on both the north and east.

Desperate resistance is being offered by the enemy in order that his men may have time to reach a haven of safety across the stream, but the British are hard after their quarry, and with the French a little to the south, almost up to the river to aid them by an outflanking movement, it would seem that the odds are heavily against the Germans.

It was the French troops who sprang the other trap. With the fall of Chaumes the French forces routed the enemy over a front of about nineteen miles and penetrated the region to a depth at some places of nearly seven miles.

From the north of Chaumes to the Nesle the penetration of the French reached the heights on the left bank of the Somme, southward the advance left the French along the Canal du Nord at various points between Nesle and the outskirts of Noyon, south and southeast of Noyon gains also were made and Noyon and the entire region between Nesle and Soissons are now in a great pocket, and with the French pinners working hard to close up on it.

The Americans are fighting with the French northwest of Soissons in the operation which has in view the blotting out of the Noyon sector and the outflanking of the Aisne and the old Chemin-des-Dames positions. Official reports have the Americans and French fighting violently with the enemy around Juvigny and Chavigny, where they have gained some ground. The Americans have successfully repulsed several counter-attacks in the region.

The Americans and Germans have been in bitter battles on the Vesle. The Germans endeavored to ford the Vesle south of Bazoches but were held by the Americans. Likewise the enemy assault against Fismette was stopped. The German official communication asserts that the Americans have suffered severe losses and lost more than 250 prisoners in the battle along the Vesle.

NO DESIRE TO CURTAIL SUGAR CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—That there is no desire or intention to curtail the reasonable use of sugar for home canning requirements, was announced by the food administration today.

At the same time it was urged that as much canning as possible be done without the use of sugar but that rather than endanger necessary canning and preserving sugar would be supplied for these purposes.

Decision regarding the amount to be used was left to the discretion of local and county food administrators who were authorized to endorse certificates calling for canning and preserving sugar in amounts not to exceed 25 pounds.

BEATEN BY ROBBER CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Joseph Theimer manager of a store in an outlying section of the city was found beaten to death in his place of business late today. The police believe he was the victim of a robber.

RECEIVE WAGE INCREASE Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 28.—Wage increases to all workers now receiving less than 78 cents an hour in sixty-six plants in the munitions and related industries of Bridgeport, Conn., are provided in an award of Otto M. Edlitz, umpire chosen by the National War Labor Board to decide controversies between the companies and their employees.

MEXICANS ARE BLAMED FOR BORDER CLASH

Military Governor of Sonora Expresses Regrets of Skirmish

(By The Associated Press.) BULLETIN NOGALES, ARIZ., Aug. 28.—Firing was resumed about 6:55 o'clock tonight. Between fifteen and twenty shots were fired from the Mexican side of the border. A general alarm was sounded on the Arizona side of the international line and the mobilization of troops and civilians followed immediately. American forces here were increased this afternoon.

NOGALES, ARIZ., Aug. 28.—Notification that he would cross the line if another shot was fired by the Mexicans was sent tonight by General DeRosey Cabell, commander of the American forces, to General P. Elias Calles, governor of Sonora.

When other American soldiers went to the aid of the wounded man shot at them were fired from the Sonora side of the line. The Americans returned the fire. General Calles, after the exchange of shots, sent a message to General Cabell thru the American and Mexican consuls in which he declared that the first shots fired tonight were from the rifles of American negro soldiers on the line. To this thru the same means of communication, General Cabell replied that he had no negro troops on the line tonight.

That shots from the Mexican side were fired first, wounding an American soldier and that other soldiers going to his aid fired in self defense only when further shots were fired at them. In concluding his statement to General Calles, General Cabell said: "Another volley is fired by your people I will take every man I have and come over and get you and everything you have. We are thru with this nonsense."

A general alarm was sounded when the first shots were fired and mobilization of soldiers and civilians followed. The American forces were increased this afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Arrival of General Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, at Nogales to present profound regrets of the Mexican government for the clash Tuesday between Mexican and American troops on the border town is expected to put an official close to the matter. The "border" of the President Carranza in ordering General Calles to proceed on a special train to the scene of the disturbance for this purpose was accepted here as a formal admission that the blame for the affair rested upon the Mexicans.

At the state department it was said that no official charge could be taken of the clash until the military authorities had made a complete report based upon a thorough investigation. It was believed that General Calles' apologies would be supplemented by similar expressions thru the Mexican ambassador in Washington.

In military circles the disposition was to view the Nogales incident as one more or less natural development of conditions along the border which the authorities on both sides have difficulty in controlling. The little towns which straddle the international boundary it was pointed out, undoubtedly hide a number of men of desperate nature who, in settlement of private feuds or thru misdirected patriotic fervor do not hesitate to open fire upon their enemies. The sound of one pistol shot in a town where the tension probably is at fever heat, sometimes is enough to start a pitched battle.

Will Not Dismiss Matter. At the same time there is no inclination in military circles to dismiss the matter utterly.

Incident as one office and one listed man and the injury of 28 soldiers and civilians on the American side furnish a serious reason, officials said, for viewing the affair in the light of future probabilities. The hope was expressed that the conference between General Calles and General Cabell would result in a formal understanding which would remove most of the chances for a recurrence.

Official despatches to the war department made it plain that the American troops were not used until the firing from the Mexican side had become so general that the sentries along the border were in danger of being overwhelmed. Orders have been issued giving Brig. Gen. William A. Holtbrook, commander of the Southern Department full authority to act along the border, General March.

GIVES ACCOUNT OF AIRCRAFT PRODUCTION

First Public Statement Made by Director Ryan—Announce that It Has Been Necessary to Abandon One Type of Airplane.

Washington, Aug. 28.—John D. Ryan, signaled his first day in office as second assistant secretary of war and director of aircraft production by taking occasion, as he put it, to give an idea of what work had been going on in the bureau of aircraft production during the last few months while investigations and reorganizations have made it advisable to keep silence.

It was the first public statement made by Mr. Ryan since he became identified with the aircraft program.

In announcing that it had been necessary to abandon one type of airplane, the Bristol, after the expenditure of considerable money and time, because it was found unsafe and of little military value Mr. Ryan said the same thing might happen again. He pointed out, however, that DeHavilland planes, improved by experience have reached quantity production and told of successful efforts of American and foreign designers to fit new types of planes to Liberty Motors.

Order for Liberty twelve cylinder motors have been increased from 22,500 to 50,000, he said and building of Hispano-Suiza and eight cylinder motors had been ordered "to balance the program."

Emphasizing that motor production now was fully up to expectation Mr. Ryan said that each of the allied governments is seeking designs in a quantity more than we can build. The contracts for the Hispano-Suiza motors provide engines of 180 and 300 horsepower.

"We are making a good many airplane designers and manufacturers were assisting on the models," Mr. Ryan said.

"Within a week the Pomilio Brothers, an Italian family of airplane designers in Indianapolis brought to this country," he said, "and are established at Indianapolis with about 30 people. They have been successful designers and builders in Italy."

AMERICANS ATTACK HUNS NORTHWEST OF SOISSONS YESTERDAY

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 28.—By The Associated Press.—The Attacks of the Americans against the Germans northwest of Soissons began shortly after seven o'clock this morning and within an hour the first objectives aggregating something more than a kilometer had been obtained north and east of Chavigny.

The Germans counter-attacked, but with the exception of a small part of one wing, the American line held steady. Where it gave away, about 300 meters, the withdrawal was due to the necessity of straightening the line.

The fighting which for the most part involved the artillery continued throughout the day and was still going on tonight.

The early action of the Americans was part of a plan carefully made and carefully carried out. It was preceded by artillery preparation and the infantry advanced under a vigorous barrage.

Germans Recapture Fismette WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF THE VESLE, Aug. 28.—By The Associated Press.—The Americans have increased their hold on the Bazoches region but the Germans have recaptured Fismette according to the latest reports. The lines on both sectors are wavering from time to time.

The Americans are determining not to give ground in the Bazoches region and the Germans are stubbornly clinging to Fismette.

TAKE LARGE DUMPS OF AMMUNITION

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, Aug. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—The British have recaptured large dumps of ammunition which they left behind last spring and which the Germans had not touched. They also have taken immense stores of German material.

The British ammunition came in very handy and saved a lot of transport, as it offered bullets and shells when they needed. Large engineer dumps, which are most useful in clearing the battlefield in the wake of the advancing armies also have been captured.

SEEK COMPROMISE LEGISLATION ON WAR PROHIBITION

Leaders Propose That It Become Effective July 1, 1919

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Aug. 28.—Plans of senate leaders for compromise legislation on national war time prohibition proposed to become effective July 1, 1919, instead of January 1, next, moved forward today with the holding of additional conferences and the holding of hearings by the agriculture committee. The program for the bill's consideration today, on the floor of the senate, was upset by the death of Senator James, of Kentucky, causing adjournment of the senate, but tomorrow it is proposed to bring the bill before the senate for continuous consideration until disposal.

Some senate leaders believe it may be passed before adjournment under the compromise plan, but others believe more time will be required. Possibility of the compromise negotiations being upset also made the bill's future uncertain.

Representatives of the "wet" and "dry" factions continued to make progress today in the negotiations for the proposed compromise. Senator Shepard, of Texas, prohibition leader, spent the day in redrafting the prohibition clause, conferring with many advocates and opponents of the bill in the effort to reach a satisfactory draft. Difficulties and negotiations prevented perfection of the bill before tomorrow.

Private conferences of leaders were in progress today. Representatives of the wine industry, distilling interests, national hotel keepers and others offered strong opposition to the bill which they said would cause great financial losses and hardships. The wine interests especially are expected to make a fight in the senate for exclusion of the wine industry from operation of the law or a longer extension of time for prohibition to become effective.

Gov. J. P. GOODRICK SERIOUSLY INJURED Indiana Governor Probably Fatally Injured When His Automobile Collided With a Street Car.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 28.—Governor James P. Goodrick of Indiana was seriously and perhaps fatally injured in an accident tonight when his automobile collided with a street car. The governor was taken to St. Vincent's hospital. He suffered concussion of the brain, slight fracture of the skull, a broken collar bone, a fracture of the left hip and several cuts and bruises. He is only partly conscious.

ENGLAND PAYS TRIBUTE TO WALTER H. PAGE

Discusses Question of His Successor as Ambassador. London, Aug. 29.—The Manchester Guardian after paying a tribute to Walter H. Page as maintaining the American tradition of "sending us its ablest and best as representatives" discusses the question of his successor as ambassador.

"It is clearly of the utmost importance that America should be represented here at this time of some one of the highest authority and enjoying in the greatest possible measure the confidence of the resident."

WILL COME BACK TO ACT AS INSTRUCTORS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Experienced flying officers are being returned from overseas service, a war department announcement says, to act as special instructors in the advanced sections of American flying schools. At the same time, elemental instruction at the fields has been put under new system, by which the cadets are assigned to a single instructor and kept under his tutelage until they complete the first course. This is said to be a safer and more effective method of giving the student a fixed amount of flying with instructors, after which he is required to make a solo flight.

ALLIES HAVE TAKEN 112,000 PRISONERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The number of prisoners taken by the Allies since June 1 has passed the 112,000 mark, General March said today.

In the same time the Allies have taken from the Germans 1,300 cannon of the field gun calibre and larger.

STATEMENTS

Official Communications Issued By Belligerent Countries Regarding War Situation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—General Pershing's communique for Tuesday follows: "Headquarters American Expeditionary Forces, August 27. "Section A: Aside from renewed local combats along the Vesle between Bazoches and Fismes there is nothing to report."

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—via London.—The German official communication issued this evening claims the repulse of allied attacks on various sectors of the fighting front. The communication says: "Sections of Arras renewed enemy attempts to break thru failed. North of Bapaume and north of the Somme, England attacks broke down with heavy losses. "Between the Somme and the Oise there have been forefired engagements before our new positions. French attacks north of the Aisne were singularly repulsed."

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The official statement on aerial operations tonight says: "On Aug. 27 our low flying airplanes were again active on the battle front. In spite of clouds and rainstorms enemy troops and transports were constantly attacked from the air with bombs and machine gun fire. Much information regarding the progress of the fighting was supplied both by airplanes and balloons. Aerial combats were numerous. In the course of these we destroyed nine hostile airplanes and drove down five out of control. Seven of our machines failed to return. Two German balloons were also shot down in flames. Our anti-aircraft fire also brought down a hostile scout machine. Twenty-two bombs were dropped by our machines."

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The Australians have reached the line of Frenes-Herbécourt, according to Field Marshal Haldane's report from British headquarters tonight but have met with much opposition in the efforts to reach the crossing of the Somme river at Brié and Peronne.

The statement says: "South of the Somme, the Australians pressing the enemy vigorously have reached the general line of Frenes-Herbécourt. The enemy is offering stubborn resistance in front of the passages of the river at Brié-Peronne. On the north bank of the Somme our troops captured Curly and Hardecourt after hard fighting and are advancing in the direction of Maupaume."

"Between Bapaume and the Scarpe our attacks have been continued today and progress has been made at all points. The village of Croisilles where the enemy maintained obstinate resistance was gradually outflanked by London troops and is now in our hands. English troops fought their way forward toward Vraucourt and southeast of Fontaine-Croisilles."

"After severe fighting lasting through the day the Canadians have successfully driven the enemy from several strong defenses and important trench systems and have captured the village of Hairy Notre Dame and Pelvies. A number of prisoners were taken in the course of these operations. We advanced our line during the day north of Lacon (Ypres sector)."

PARIS, Aug. 28.—In a swift advance today covering more than six miles at certain points the French troops south of the Somme recaptured four villages. The war office announces tonight. The left bank of the Somme has been reached between Cizancourt and Nesle, as well as the west bank of the Canal du Nord between Nesle and Noyon over the greater part of its course.

American troops in the region of Juvigny repulsed numerous German counter-attacks and broke up an enemy attempt to cross the Vesle south of Bazoches.

The statement says: "Gain Heights East of Nesle. "The enemy under our vigorous thrust retreated precipitately on a front of about thirty kilometers. We have gained the heights on the left bank of the Somme from Cizancourt to the region east of Nesle."

"Further south we reached the west bank of the Canal du Nord on the greater part of its course between Nesle and Noyon."

"North of the Oise we occupied Pont L' Eveque, Vauchelles and Porqueriecourt."

"Our advance today exceeded nine kilometers at certain points. Since morning about forty villages have been retaken. We captured three trains loaded with war material and took prisoners. Between the Oise and the Aisne there were spirited engagements. In the region of Juvigny the Americans valiantly repulsed several enemy counter-attacks. A powerful German attempt to cross

MAN POWER BILL WILL BE SENT TO PRESIDENT TODAY

Complete Agreement Reached By House and Senate

(By The Associated Press.) Washington, Aug. 28.—Enactment by congress and transmission to President Wilson tomorrow of the newspaper bill, broadening the army draft age limits to include men of 18 to 45 years old, appeared assured late today when senate and house conferees unexpectedly reached a complete agreement on all important disputes, striking out the senate's work or fight amendment.

The amendment left for the final conference planned early tomorrow were those of Senators Penrose, of Pennsylvania, and France, of Maryland, providing registrants need not claim exemption or deferred classification for men deferred for industrial or other service. Provost Marshal General Crowder, who opposes the Penrose amendment because it would compel revision of millions of printed questionnaires and thus delay the new draft, will meet tomorrow with the conferees. In disposing of other differences between the senate and house bills the conferees adopted the house plan of government education of soldiers, which authorizes their detail for immediate technical and special training under plans already made. The senate managers yielded on this difference and agreed to elimination of the senate amendment, guaranteeing free education for soldiers and sailors after the war up to a medium period of two years.

Amendment Stricken Out

The conferees struck from the bill the house amendment authorizing reclassification of deferred classes by special examiners of the provost marshal general, sponsored by Representative Treadway of Massachusetts, and also eliminate the senate legislation requested by General Crowder, authorizing transfer within states of draft board members. Another amendment struck out was the so-called co-belligerent or "alien slacker" amendment of Representative McCulloch, of Ohio, which proposed that citizens of the United States who are co-belligerents in this country should not be exempt or given deferred classification solely because of their alien citizenship, unless provided by treaty. The house managers accepted the senate amendment providing that wives of soldiers and sailors shall not be disqualified for government positions because of marriage.

JACKIES WILL BE TRANSFERRED

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Aug. 28.—All men who have been at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station for six months or over on October 1, 1918, will be transferred to Camp Luce for further training to sea duty, unless a special request for their retention is made by department head and approved by the commandant. The order applies to both enlisted and reserve forces and was issued today by Lieutenant Commander C. S. Roberts, executive officer of the station. It is holding the thousands of Jackies now at the station will be affected by the rule.

URGENT PROMPT ACTION ON BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Urging prompt action on a bill to give the government authority to requisition buildings to house war workers, Housing Commissioner Edlitz told the senate committee today that real estate profiteers in many communities are retarding the government's housing program by demanding exorbitant prices for property. Mare Island, Cal., Rock Island, Ill., Philadelphia and Quincy, Mass., were mentioned as places where government buildings are being seriously retarded.

The war has changed public opinion regarding cigarettes and tobacco, notwithstanding stringent laws in many states.

"Joy riding" can be dispensed with for one day out of seven without hardship. Save gasoline and attend church for a change.

There will soon be very few neutral countries thru which Germany may offer new peace proposals.

It is believed the Kaiser has changed his mind regarding "American foolishness." They are showing him they can "fool" him every time.

Investigation of recent increases in commissions and yardage charges by stock yards is the latest. The inquiry will also look into the question of service charges and will be held next month.

Next Sunday will no doubt see universal compliance with the gasoline conservation request. Our people have always shown a ready willingness to sacrifice their own pleasure or even comforts for any order that they believe may help our boys win in the present struggle.

A "suggestion and complaint" bureau is to be established by Director General McAdoo, to which the public is invited to forward criticisms and suggestions, whether they relate to service rendered by employees and officials or details that contribute to the convenience or inconvenience of the patrons of railroads. This may lead to a call for a new army of clerks.

AN AGGRESSIVE LOBBY.

The platinum lobby, which Congressman Rainey charged with being "the most forceful and most aggressive lobby I have ever seen in the City of Washington," still appears to have its grip on the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee. The latest report is that the committee has decided that "platinum jewelry, in addition to the regular wholesale jewelry tax of 10 per cent, will pay another 10 per cent when sold at retail." This will never solve the platinum problem. People who are making large profits will pay the additional tax and get the platinum. German propagandists, knowing how essential platinum is to ammunition, will do what they can to keep it in the hands of the government by getting it out of the hands of the jewelers. Representative Longworth attempted in vain, in the last revenue bill, to put a tax on the use of platinum in jewelry manufacture, so high that it would prohibit its further consumption in that manner.

HOW THE ACCOUNT STANDS.

It does not take much careful observation to determine which party is best standing by the government in the prosecution of the war. There were in the Senate 44 Republicans and 52 Democrats, and the majority party is always charged with the duty of maintaining a quorum, 49 members. When the Senate met August 15 to take up the new draft bill, after telegrams had been sent to all members of the Senate, regardless of party, there were only 43 members on hand, and among these were 22 Republicans and 21 Democrats. On the following Monday there were 58 members present and of these 29 were Republicans and 29 were Democrats. In proportion to their representation in the Senate, the Republicans were still furnishing the larger part of the attendance. The National Security League has found upon analysis of the votes of members of the House on eight important war measures, only 47 members voted right on all eight issues. Of these 43 were Republicans and 4 Democrats. In the Senate it has been found that on the Republican side a fraction more than 76 per cent of the Republicans have supported war propositions while a fraction less than 76 per cent of the Democrats have come to the bat in support of the war. In view of the record, it is plain what the voter must do if he wants to stand by the government in pressing this war to a speedy and victorious conclusion.

PICKING UP THE MONEY.

When the going gets tough, the going gets ugly. The Fourth Liberty Loan campaign that section of Illinois included in the Eighth Federal Reserve district will be ready for a sprint that will take it thru the race and carry it "over the top" in big time, so matter what the quota may be.

This is the opinion of E. E. Crabtree, state chairman for Illinois, says the Globe-Democrat. "There is nothing to it," declared Crabtree, "but just going out and picking up the money. Many thousands of dollars are already in the banks, to be applied to the purchase of the fourth bonds, and our people are making all of their plans for quick subscriptions."

There is one woman in Jacksonville, whose name I do not care to give, who has already placed her order for $20,000 of the bonds. She was advised to go on the market and buy previous issues of Liberty bonds at a discount, and was shown whereby she could save $1000 by the transaction.

"But this patriotic woman said she wanted to do her bit and she said she would prefer taking fourth bonds at par. Therefore she bought treasury certificates of indebtedness and has instructed her banker to exchange these for fourth Liberty bonds on September 28, 'Volunteer Day.'"

"Reports reaching from other cities in our part of the district assure me that all are making ready for the drive, and that our quota will be quickly absorbed. And we are expecting the quota to be larger this time than in the previous loans."

"People realize that the sooner the war is over the more lives will be saved and are ready to invest their dollars that lives may not be lost because of penury."

FLYING TIME.

Already Summer's growing old—great Caesar, how the weeks roll on! But yesterday Spring's knell was tolled, and now the Summer's nearly gone! The sun, it makes a shorter round, and early sinks, far in the west; the wombat burrows in the ground, the warthog builds its Winter nest. In other days I used to view the passage of old Father Time with sorrow, for he made me blue—I thought his hurry was a crime. But now I watch the bright days flee, and murmur, when each day is done, "We're this much nearer victory, we're nearer wiping out the Hun. We're nearer to the dawn of peace, a peace that's warranted to wear, when all the booming guns shall cease, and there'll be quiet everywhere. We're one day nearer to the hour when crazy war lords must confess that Uncle Sam is clothed with power to re-establish righteousness." The days go by—no holding them! I merely bless them as they fly; about a million r. p. m. they seem to make, as they whiz by. The pterodactyl soon will soar to climates more suitable to him, and from this bleak, inclement shore, the megatherium will swim. All signs betoken summer's death, the grass grows rusty on the hill, and soon we'll feel the frosty breath of Winter, hoisterous and chill. But every day that wings its flight brings nearer to our waiting throng the triumph of eternal right, the downfall of infernal wrong.

NEW CHAUTAUQUA
TENT TOP COMING

WILL BE BROUGHT FROM SPRINGFIELD TODAY

Windstorm Did Damage But Excellent Program Given — Congressman Foss to Make Address Today—G. A. R. Veterans Will Be Honored.

The sudden windstorm late Wednesday afternoon interfered with the night attendance at the Chautauqua but the day consisted as a whole was successful. The windstorm damaged the big tent to such an extent that the management sent to Springfield for a new tent top which will be brought by auto trucks this morning, with the expectation that the big canvas will be in place by this afternoon. However, if thru any chance the tent is not received the program can proceed in the open air.

The events for this afternoon will be the concert by Liberator's band and the Centennial address by Congressman George E. Foss. Yesterday morning there were lectures by J. P. Gilbert and Mrs. Alice S. Houston. In the afternoon the Boston Symphony Sextette gave another excellent program, followed by the lecture recital by C. B. Griffith.

In the evening the Y. M. C. A. athletic exhibition was given but threatening weather so disturbed the audience that the concert program was abandoned.

Prof. Gilbert. The first number in the morning was a fine talk on bird songs by Prof. Gilbert who lives so near to nature. He showed from his abundant chart the various birds that make day and sometimes night delightful. He explained the anatomical construction of the little songsters and described a number of them. Many are dly catchers and all useful.

The crow is a singer but his notes are not at all desirable. The blue jay sings occasionally but not often.

Among the most attractive song birds are the orchard and Baltimore Orioles. Only be kind and obliging to them and often they will build in your dooryard. He told of a pair which built in the dooryard of a relative whom he was visiting and he lay in a hammock under the tree and watched them. They fed the young about each two minutes of the day bringing one or more caterpillars each time; from 600 to 700 daily. They are very clean housekeepers and the excitement from the young is carefully removed. The mourning dove has her plaintive note and is a numerous bird, very cheerful, extremely valuable and has a lovely song.

The redwing blackbird, found more in the south, does some singing. The wild canary, American gold finch are listed also among the singers.

He told an interesting experience he had with his boys on a camping expedition when they visited a hermit, in southern Illinois, a veteran of the war who had a dwelling in the forest and only emerged two or three times a year.

This man was an especial friend of owls and could talk with them. He said they had twelve words which he understood while at his place they sat and listened for the voice of an owl. The old man said they must call first and then he could answer and gather them so he did accumulating a large flock about his place.

Prof. Gilbert's talk today will be especially desirable as it is to be on poultry and he will endeavor to have a fowl there and illustrate canonizing.

A Lecture in Jealousy. The lecture recital by C. B. Griffith Wednesday afternoon was a feature of special merit and was heard with appreciation by the large audience present. Mr. Griffith's subject was "Jealousy, the Leprosy of the Soul. A Study of Othello." Only a brief outline is presented herewith. He said in part:

"I have for your consideration this afternoon the tragedy of husband and wife—Othello. The great drama was written by William Shakespeare, the master of the English language. To him every passion of the human heart was an open book. Being a psychologist it was natural that he should analyze that primitive passion of the human heart—jealousy. This passion is a monster which has always been with us, is in us now as it always will be. It is in the home, in the office, in the place of business and wherever men and women are gathered together. It stalks in public and hides in private. It enters the gayest heart and leaves its poisoned shaft. By it the laugh of joy is turned into a sigh. It burns into the heart and leaves it a knotted and withered slag. It is the antithesis of love. It lives upon suspicion."

"In this play the character of Othello, a captain in the service of the Venetian republic, is worked out with great breadth and clearness. His noble qualities captivated the noble beautiful girl, Desdemona. He returned her love and they were married against the wishes of her parents. Othello was a man of middle age, Desdemona a young school girl. There is a lesson in this story for all girls. It is wise to talk over with your parents this marriage business. They can in their experience give you valuable suggestions. The man you marry should possess other qualifications than being a hero."

Shakespeare a Psychologist. "Shakespeare, the psychologist, in this story causes the gossip to be a man, this great student of human nature seeming to think that the villain of the play, Iago, a young ensign, is pictured as the youngest of a pleasing personality but a very wicked heart. The circumstance that not he, but Michael Cassio, has been appointed second in command to Othello, first sets his cunning to work. He coveted this post and with a desire for revenge he plots to ruin Cassio. By falsehood and hypocrisy he succeeds in causing Othello to regard Desdemona and Cassio with suspicion. By his cunning art the Moor is made to see everything as Iago would have him see it. Shakespeare knew that such wickedness as the character of Iago typifies exists and he seized upon it and sat his stamp upon it to his eternal honor as a psychologist.

"The character of Michael Cassio, the young lieutenant, is pictured in superb contrast to that of Iago. Othello is described as valiant, prudent and capable and Desdemona as virtuous and beautiful. Othello and Desdemona lived in Venice in complete happiness until Iago undermined that happiness by his false accusations. The climax is reached when Othello in a jealous rage murders Desdemona in her bed chamber. The story is a great example of the power of wickedness over unsuspecting nobility. The natures of Othello and Desdemona are ruined by the simplicity which makes them an easy prey to wickedness."

Evening Session. A good sized audience gathered about the stand and W. W. Schrag gave a four minute talk on the war. He said there was no end to the efforts of the German government to spread dissension and trouble all over the world and there was simply no end to the lies they would tell.

They would slander the Red Cross, the army, the navy, the office of the army messenger, the disasters to the allied army and do all manner of things to dampen the ardor of the friends of the allies and help the cause of Germany. When you hear any such statements be sure they had their start in German minds and don't fail to ask your informant for his authority.

Following this came the Y. M. C. A. athletics with a fine exhibition but the lurid lightning and ominous thunder caused the program to be cut very short greatly to the regret of all concerned. As far as the boys were able to go their work was fine and the four clowns were irresistibly funny.

As the weather was so threatening it seemed best to discontinue further efforts and call off the rest of the intended bill.

talked entertainingly and instructively on war time cakes and desserts.

Notes. Some tent names are 'N T R'; 'Tumble Inn'; 'Short Stay'; 'Beat It Inn' and 'Over Here'.

Misses Dorothy and Geraldine Bowen of Peoria are temporarily visiting their aunt, Mrs. Scott, east of the city.

Miss Irene T. Smith from north east of the city, is enjoying camping this week with Mrs. J. W. Gibbons, and Mrs. J. Sells of Kansas City.

The railroad watchman is nursing a very sore arm. A man on a work train carelessly threw off at the crossing a spike hammer which hit the watchman on his arm causing a painful bruise.

Superintendent Schaefer is enjoying for the week end a visit from his wife, little son Francis and daughter, Sue.

The Journal reporter is under many obligations to Owen D. Graft for an automobile ride to the city which was most acceptable.

On the way down from Springfield yesterday Mrs. Schaefer said there was a severe storm over New Berlin and some distance each way from that place with a heavy fall of rain.

SERVICE LEAGUE WORK IS RE-OPENED

Miss Dorsey Trained Superintendent Will Combine Various Local Activities.

Miss Dorothy Dorsey of Alton is now in charge of the work of the Jacksonville Social Service League, the offices having been reopened in the King building.

Miss Dorsey has had experience in the work as she has been serving as secretary of the Alton public health council where the work is of the kind which the social service league here will follow.

Miss Dorsey came to Jacksonville more than a week ago and since that time has been familiarizing herself with the office records and with facts about Jacksonville. The work along several lines has been co-ordinated here in order to prevent overlapping activities. So Miss Dorsey will serve as city matron, as juvenile patrol officer under direction of the county court and will also have charge of the attendance officer's work for the board of education. There will be additional duties related to the general work of the social service league.

Miss Dorsey will have such assistance as need requires, so that there will be ample time for the satisfactory discharge of her various and important duties. It is hoped that thru operation of the present plans that the directors of the league, members of the case committee and the various persons and organizations co-operating will find definite benefits arising from the league organization. Miss Dorsey is thoroughly prepared for the work in which she is engaged, having graduated from the community and public service work at Northwestern university. In recent weeks she has taken special additional training at Dr. Graham Taylor's Chicago school of Civics and Philanthropy. In addition Miss Dorsey has engaged in field work with the associated charities of Evanston. So she enters upon her Jacksonville duties fully equipped by training and experience.

RAIN SOUTH OF CITY. An interstate autoist passing through the city yesterday reported heavy rains all the way from Sedalia to St. Louis, and coming north from the latter city he encountered much mud and rain.

Miss Leta Stillwell, bookkeeper at the Kresge store, is suffering from a sprained ankle.

SCHOOL BOARD AWARDS CONTRACTS

Tunnel Will Be Built From Heating Plant to David Prince Building — Plumbing and Steam Fitting Work Also Let.

At the special meeting of the board of education, held last evening, the contracts were awarded for the building of a tunnel from the heating plant to the David Prince building and for the necessary plumbing and steam fitting. The contract for the tunnel was awarded to E. E. Wells at $3,450, who will complete the job in five weeks, and to Bernard Gause for the plumbing on his bid of $4,680. The board met in special session, with A. C. Metcalf as president pro tem, and Mrs. Maude Parker as secretary pro tem. Other members present were Mr. Rogerson, Mr. Muehlhausen, Mr. Hopper and Dr. W. P. Duncan.

The bids for the tunnel were as follows:

Joseph DeGoveia, $3,787.
S. G. Chumley, $4,476.
E. E. Wells, $3,450.
Vasconcellos & Son, $4,449.

The bids for the plumbing and steam fitting were:

Jacksonville Plumbing Co., $4,892.
Bernard Gause, $4,680.

The plans for the tunnel were prepared by Architect J. K. C. Pierson, and it will extend from the heating plant to the house on the Springer property and then across the street to the David Prince building. The tunnel will be four by five feet in general dimensions, with brick and concrete walls. It will be constructed in this way so that the pipes will be accessible for any necessary work. The tunnel will run to a basement room underneath the stage in the David Prince building. Construction will be such that it can be extended across Court street to house in high school building at the proper time.

The Proceedings. It was decided that the president and secretary shall sign warrants for sums due on contracts.

The chair read a copy of a letter he had written Mr. Holzman, advising architect, naming some corrections which should be made in instructions to competing architects, with the request that a copy be sent by Mr. Holzman to each one.

Messrs. Hopper and Muehlhausen reported that they had secured from the city council permission to construct the tunnel under Jordan street, the commissioners acting in a very cordial manner toward the enterprise.

The secretary was instructed to send a unanimous vote of thanks to the council for its action.

Adjourned.

Business Contracts. The contracts let last night lend emphasis to the fact that the board has contracted for a large amount of work at a cost of less than $24,000. Bids from reliable persons were received for the boiler house and smoke stack. Radiation will be placed in the Springer house, an extensive tunnel with accompanying steam pipes built, distributing room placed under the David Prince building, the old boilers moved from the high school site and put into the new building, all plumbing connections made and the sewer extended along Reid street to Fayette street. Old materials taken from the high school building will be used in some of the work, but the amount involved indicates quite clearly that the board is handling the whole proposition in a very business-like and efficient way.

SHILOH. Quite a number from this vicinity are attending the Jacksonville Chautauqua this week.

Miss Allene Dyer is spending several days with Mrs. Nellie McGee.

Leonard Goveia and family made a trip to Oak Ridge Sunday afternoon in their Ford car.

Minnesota Wheat Lands

Kittson County, where the late James J. Hill had a 26,000 acre wheat and stock farm offers unusual opportunities.

The Payne Investment Co. now offers an attractive list of farms in that county, values ranging from $40 to $75 an acre, according to location and improvements.

Read what John W. Thomas, a Morgan county man who located in Kittson county this year, says:

"The grain in this locality is looking fine. We have had an abundance of moisture and from present prospects I expect to harvest enough this year to equal the value of the quarter section of land I purchased. The climate has been ideal thus far and all the members of my family are in the best of health. If you are thinking of buying land I don't know any locality where it will pay for itself as quickly or advance as rapidly as here. The country is settling up very rapidly. Wheat, oats, alfalfa and barley are the principal crops. The soil is rich, black and deep."

Will be pleased to furnish literature and information about Kittson county farms, most of which are located near Humbolt.

Sunday Schools of Morgan County

Note: This paper was prepared for the Co. S. Convention of 1918, on request of Mr. C. L. DePue. It was read by some one other than the writer.

The writer's first connection with, and special knowledge of the Sabbath Schools of Jacksonville was in 1857, on becoming a member of the Sabbath School of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Marshall P. Ayers was Superintendent and Mr. Joel C. Lincolnton, the pastor, was his assistant. The building in which the school was held was the church which then stood where the Journal office is now, and was burned in December, 1861.

Mr. Ayers was a superintendent at twenty-four years of age, and interested in the work all his life. He had much power of interest, in management and public speech, and could make things go. His father, David B. Ayers, was in the work before him and Marshall's son, John A. Ayers was successor in superintendence.

The writer joined Westminster church in March, 1863, and Dr. Hamilton, the pastor, had the habit of putting his young people right to work. So the writer became a teacher in the West Diamond Grove S. S., on "Lover's Lane", in the Massey neighborhood; probably acting as superintendent occasionally that year. The next year, 1864, he was Superintendent, and again in 1865, until the latter part of July, when he and his wife, and his resume connection with the school thereafter. In 1867, he began the summer as Superintendent of the school in the "Red Brick" school house northwest of town, but again went East, and was not in country work afterwards.

All of the years, '81, '82 and '83, he was Superintendent of the Sabbath School of Westminster church, and assistant Superintendent a year or two later, for one year.

Early Schools

Dr. John M. Peck, in his "Gazetteer of Illinois", published here in 1834, speaking of Morgan county, says: "It has a vigorous Bible Society, with branches in several settlements; a Sunday School Union, with about seven Sabbath Schools."

Charles M. Eames was a Sunday School teacher or Superintendent all his life, being connected with the First Presbyterian church, while here. In his History of Jacksonville and Morgan, he says: "According to Elder D. Pat Henderson, the first Sunday School in the county was organized in Jersey Prairie, at or near Princeton, by a Mr. Leonard, whose widow is still living, having married a gentleman named Ruckner." Eames's book was printed in 1885.

The Christians organized a church in 1832, getting a building in 1836. The Congregationalists organized in 1833, and got into their church in 1835.

Father Adams

Mr. John Adams, former Principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., afterwards Principal of Jacksonville Female Academy, was an elder in the First Presbyterian church. After retiring from teaching, in about the year 1842, Dr. Adams became a Sunday School organizer for the American Sunday School Union in this region, collecting 322 schools, attended by over 16,000 persons. He was a long time Superintendent of his own church school. From all these labors Dr. Adams received the endearing name of "Father" Adams. He kept up the Sunday School work until 1854, when he was 84 years of age. Among his greatest acts was his discovery of the power of Stephen Paxson, and Adams' recommendation of him to the American Sunday School Union. Mr. Paxson is estimated to have collected from 70,000 to 160,000 persons into his schools.

Methodist Schools

The writer cannot begin to tell about all the Sabbath Schools or Morgan county. But, as the Methodists had the first church in it, it is fair to presume that they organized the first Sabbath Schools. Without intending to discriminate, the ing their mother, Mrs. Ella Gilpin, on Mathers street.

J. R. Knapp made a trip from Winchester to the city yesterday.

William Werris, of Exeter, was added to the list of city guests yesterday.

E. M. Craig, of the southeast part of the county, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rawlings, of Durbin, were added to the list of city arrivals yesterday.

Mrs. Sophie Longnecker and Mrs. Leta Doyle and three children, were up to the city from Winchester yesterday.

Mrs. Robert Michaels, of Alton, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Jennie Clerihan, on East Independence avenue.

C. E. James and family, of the northwest part of the county, were travelers to the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Scott, Miss Helen Scott and Frank Scott, Jr., of Roodhouse, were Wednesday visitors in the city.

W. A. Frantz of Chicago, representative of the pure food commission was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Mrs. T. R. Walsh and daughter, Rose, have returned to their home in Woodson, after a visit in Chillicothe.

William Decker, of the northwest part of the county, was transacting business in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Henry Baxter and mother, Mrs. Mary Bentley, of Winchester, were callers in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Joseph Moore and little son have returned to their home, 536 South Clay avenue, after a visit with Mrs. Moore's husband at Camp Benjamin Harrison, Indiana.

Mrs. E. G. Saye and little son, Edward, have gone to Manchester to have a visit with Mrs. Saye's sister, Mrs. E. E. Million, before the early departure of the latter for her home in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

writer would mention among leading or prominent workers of that denomination, Judge Wm. Brown, Dr. Phillip G. Gillet, John W. Springer, Stephen H. Capps and Richard Yates, Second.

First Presbyterian
Among those engaged in this work in the "Old First" were the Catlins, Willlys, Joel, Miss Margaret and C. Augustus. Prof. B. F. Mitchell, of J. F. A., and his son Frank are not to be overlooked, nor Charles McDonald, Supt. at the time of his death, in 1871. Notable among the "infant class" teachers was Mrs. Dr. Glover.

Charles M. Eames was a teacher and superintendent, holding the latter position from 1871 until 1885 or 6, when he went to Ft. Scott, Kansas. He was State Statistical Secretary in 1880, and District President for four years.

Congregationalists and Others
The Congregationalists, beginning about 1835, had their school here, and they had some of the best qualified male and female instructors in the county. They had the Fairbanks and Joys, and others in Joy Prairie, at an early day; and they were strong and active in their denomination at Waverly.

The writer is not familiar enough with the other church schools in Jacksonville, or in the county, to go deeply into details. But the Baptists, Christians, Episcopalians and German Methodists and Lutherans all had their schools and their faithful workers in them.

Meredosia

The Methodists have had a good church organization in Meredosia. Along about the beginning of the Civil War Mrs. Joseph C. Thompson was an active and efficient worker in their Sabbath School.

Westminster Church
Naturally, being a member of that church, the writer knows more about Westminster Sabbath School than of any other.

The church was organized in 1860, and Marshall P. Ayers was the first Sabbath School Superintendent, a position he held for years. He was very attractive in this work to young people. He was followed by Benj. P. Stevenson and later on by Ayers' son, John A. Ayers. This school had very efficient teachers of Bible classes, among whom David A. Smith may be mentioned. Among women Mrs. Carrie M. Duer was one of the most active for years. Mrs. Annie E. Smith was also long in the Primary class.

A Good and Great Work
It has been the aim of the writer to attempt to preserve some of the earlier history of the Sabbath School work in Morgan county, and he regrets not being better informed on the subject. Still he thinks he has brought out some points and names of persons, who should not be forgotten by us of the younger generation.

The religious training of the young is one of the most important of undertakings, and is especially needed in a government of the people and by the people. So too much cannot be accorded the good workers who have given of their intelligence, time and strength, that our "young men and maidens" might be taught "the Way of Life."

Schools in 1878

According to Mr. Eames, county Sunday School statistician, in 1875, the membership of the city Sabbath Schools was:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ames, of Herman, and Grover Poole, of Versailles, visited yesterday with Mr. Ames' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ames, on Sandusky street.

chief of staff said. The official account of the incident telegraphed by General Holbrook under date of last night was made public by General March as follows:

"Engagements started 4:10 p. m., brought about by an effort upon the part of American customs guards to halt a suspected smuggler. Man halted at line and during conversation with customs men, a man ran out of the depot on Mexican side and fired at the American sentry coming down line, wounded him. General firing then started from cover on the Mexican side.

"American military guard on duty from G and H companies returned fire from prostrate skirmish formation, continuing same all along the line as fresh troops came up. Squads of infantrymen beside depot on American side suffered four casualties before their ammunition gave out. Balance of the line is being held by skirmishers taking advantage of the terrain along line.

"Colonel Herman wounded thru right knee early in skirmish. Not serious. Casualties at depot on American side, Corporal Barney Lotz, Company G, 35th Infantry killed, wounded thru body; Paul Deppee, H company, 35th Infantry, wounded thru left hand; Private Plaszitzki shot thru left shoulder. These casualties occurred in detachment under immediate command of Lieutenant Fannin. Firing has now ceased all along the line following conference between Colonel Herman and Mexican commander at International Bridge. Each side has withdrawn its soldiers but desultory firing by civilians from hills continues at intervals.

"General Cabell left Douglas by automobile for Nogales at 7 p. m., having previously ordered that troops, 10th Cavalry there from Huachuca and arranged for conference with Governor Calles."

Telegram from General Cabell.

This telegram came today from General Cabell:

"Colonel Herman reports from Nogales by telephone at firing ceased at 10 p. m., one officer and two men killed. Two officers and thirteen men wounded. Mexican casualties heavy. Am sending two troops, 10th Cavalry from here, also machine guns. Herman reports Mexican troops coming into Mexico. Have ordered one squadron march from Douglas to Huachuca. General Calles agrees to meet me 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. Expect to reach Nogales at 3 a. m."

Express Regret.

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 28.—Expressions of regret over yesterday's border fighting were exchanged today by General DeRosey C. Cabell and General Plutarco Elias Calles, representing American and Mexican governments. The generals met on a bridge spanning a dry wash which is a part of the international line. General Calles came here from Hermosillo at the orders of President Carranza and General Cabell hastened from Douglas, Ariz., when the shooting occurred between Mexicans and American soldiers here late yesterday in which 58 were known to have been killed or wounded.

The conference lasted one hour and at the conclusion of the meeting, General Cabell issued the following statement to the Associated Press:

"I met with General Calles here after having received a telegram from him expressing regret that this incident should have occurred. General Calles said he had been ordered by President Carranza to Nogales immediately after the occurrence to take steps to stop the trouble on the border. He expressed himself as being satisfied that there would be no further trouble as a result of the unfortunate occurrence of yesterday."

General Cabell also announced Will Stop Further Trouble, that steps would be taken by both commanders to stop any fighting in the future which might lead to a recurrence of the incident especially in reference to firing across the border.

The American commander also stated that other matters of a confidential nature would be contained in his report to the war department. This is believed to refer to friction between the custom guards on the American and Mexican side of the border.

The body of Captain Hungerford who was killed during the fighting will be returned to home in Washington, D. C., tomorrow for burial in the Arlington National Cemetery.

Twenty-four hours after the skirmish between United States troops and Mexicans on the international border here late yesterday conditions in the Mexican and American towns had become normal and no further trouble is expected.

American and Mexican officials agreed today that the shooting started on Mexican side of the border yesterday afternoon and Mexican customs guards and civilians were primarily responsible.

American and Mexican soldiers it was announced here today only participated in the skirmish after firing had started.

Mexican Consul Zertuche announced late today he had sent an official report to Washington, estimating Mexican casualties in yesterday's fighting at 13 killed and 15 wounded, including four Mexican women. American casualties were two killed, 28 wounded.

Casualties Heavy.

Americans here believe the Mexican casualties will prove greater than the estimate given by the Mexican consul. Many Americans assert that they saw Mexicans carrying many dead and wounded into houses on the Mexican side for concealment.

The inability to get accurate estimate of the Mexican casualties was due to the fact that the port was closed last night and today and all telephone communication suspended and no Americans permitted to cross to the Mexican side.

Among the Americans wounded the condition of Gaston Redoch, civilian and Lieutenant Luke Loftus, remained serious, but it is believed both will recover.

guns are pounding away at the enemy and the Germans have been unable to bring up reinforcements. While the American troops gathered ground in the vicinity of Bachez, German forces, after fighting which lasted all night, gained a hold upon Fismette. There were numerous hand-to-hand encounters in the town.

German machine gunners who had dug into the hills in line with the streets of Fismette endeavored to shoot down the Americans when they were driven from the houses by German artillery and the bombs of enemy aviators.

American patrols are now fighting for possession of Fismette.

PERSHING COMMENDS AMERICAN TROOPS

Tribute Paid By Commander of Forces in France to Armies Who So Gallantly Defended the Road to Paris from Enemy

With The American Army In France, Aug. 27.—(By The Associated Press.)—General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American army in France has issued the following order:

"It fills me with pride to record in general orders a tribute to the service achievements of the First and Third Corps, comprising the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Twenty Sixth, Twenty Eighth, Thirty Second, and Forty Second divisions of the American Expeditionary Forces.

"You came to this battlefield at a crucial hour for the Allied cause.

"For almost four years the most formidable army the world has yet seen had pressed its invasion of France and stood threatening its capital. At no time has that army been more powerful and menacing than when, on July 15, it struck again to destroy in one great battle the brave men opposed to it and to enforce its brutal will upon the world and civilization.

"Three days later, in conjunction with our allies, you counter-attacked. The Allied armies gained a brilliant victory that marks the turning point of the war. You did more than to give the allies the support to which as a nation our faith was pledged. You proved that our altruism, our pacific spirit and our sense of justice have not blunted our virility or our courage.

"You have shown that American initiative and energy are as fit for the tasks of war as for the pursuits of peace. You have justly won unstinted praise from our Allies and the eternal gratitude of our countrymen.

"We have paid for our success with the lives of many of our brave comrades. We shall cherish their memory always and claim for our history and literature their bravery, achievement and sacrifice.

"This order will be read to all organizations at the first assembly formations following its receipt.

"Pershing."

GASOLINE ORDER AND THE CHAUTAUQUA

The recent government request for the abandonment of automobile travel last Sunday, except in cases accounted as necessary, caused a vast amount of discussion yesterday. Because of the fact that the Chautauqua will still be in progress, the discussion centered largely around that enterprise. A splendid program has been arranged for the day, contracts having been signed many months ago. The women of the national council of defense having charge of the dining tent have already made extensive preparations for their Sunday service and if automobile travel to the Chautauqua is to be cut out the result will be very unfortunate in a financial way. Patriotism and the discussion of war subjects have so dominated the program that the Chautauqua can properly be looked upon as a patriotic enterprise. The women of the council of defense have taken over the dining service in order to raise money for a patriotic purpose.

In view of these facts many people who yesterday discussed the question were of the opinion that travel to the Chautauqua ground should not be accounted as pleasure driving but should be under the circumstances be listed as necessary and patriotic. At any rate, some definite ruling on the question will be sought from Washington authorities so that the people of Jacksonville and Morgan county may be in no doubt as to the government's wishes with reference to the local Chautauqua enterprise.

CALIFORNIA ELECTION.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 28.—Governor W. D. Stephens, who lost his apparent lead in yesterday's primary when the discovery of tabulating errors late today put Mayor James Rolph, of San Francisco ahead, for the governorship, early tonight regained first place. Complete returns from 3,508 from 5,000 precincts in the state gave Stephens 105,320 and Rolph 102,386. For the Republican nomination, the state returns gave Rolph 42,742 and Francis J. Davis 22,104 on the Democratic ticket.

MINISTRY OF MARINE DENIES REPORT

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(Havas.)—The ministry of marine denies that a French patrol boat has captured Lieutenant Schweiger. It is declared that this German officer died some time ago.

A despatch from Paris Tuesday reported the Paris Journal as saying that Lieutenant Schweiger had been among those rescued from the crew of a German submarine sunk in the Mediterranean by a French patrol boat. The German admiral had admitted that Schweiger was killed in an accident in the North Sea in September, 1917.

WIND STORM WRECKED THE ASSEMBLY TENT

Fortunate That Happening Came After Audience Had Dispersed—Mrs. James Only Person Suffering Serious Injury.

The windstorm which swept thru Nichols park late Wednesday afternoon fortunately came at the conclusion of the afternoon program. The top was blown from the big assembly tent and several poles fell. Had the audience been assembled there would certainly have been many injured. As it was, the only person injured was Mrs. Bess James, whose death is recorded in another column. The wind, in a moment's time, wrecked the tent top. It is in six parts and Secretary Rice said last night that the evening program as usual, but the frequent flashes of lightning and the lowering clouds so disturbed the audience that adjournment was taken. As stated elsewhere, arrangements were made for a new tent top and two automobile trucks are expected to start from Springfield this morning at 7:00 o'clock bringing the canvass.

Secretary Rice was one of those who seized a rope near the platform when the big gust of wind came, and as the result two fingers on one hand and his thumb and finger on the other were badly torn and burned. Some of the smaller tents were violently shaken by the wind, but no damage was done and those living in the tents were not greatly alarmed. If plans outlined are carried out the big tent will be in readiness for this afternoon's program.

REVENUE BILL DELAYED BY NEW SUGGESTIONS

Secretary McAdoo Offers New Suggestions for Administrative Provisions.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Presented by Secretary McAdoo of a large number of new suggestions for administrative provisions delayed the pending $8,000,000 revenue bill to such an extent in the house ways and means committee today that it was announced that the bill may not be completed this week.

Secretary McAdoo submitted the new suggestions in a letter which gave rise to so much discussion that it was decided to ask the secretary to appear tomorrow before the committee.

There was some reference to safeguarding the effect of the war tax plans on the coming issue of liberty bonds in Secretary McAdoo's letter to the committee today. The main feature of the letter, however, was a warning to the committee to keep in mind the necessity of not putting too onerous a burden on business. The letter occasioned considerable surprise among members of the committee, coming after Mr. McAdoo and treasury experts had insisted upon, and the committee has agreed to an eighty per cent flat war profits levy, taking four-fifths of all war profits of ninety per cent of all business corporations in the country and had urged other principles designed to make sure of the raising of the full $8,000,000,000.

STORM BRINGS DEATH TO MRS. BESSIE JAMES

Murrayville Woman Dies From Injuries Received When Storm Wrecks Tent at Chautauqua Grounds—Received Six Inch Linear Fractured Skull—Death Resulted From Profound Shock.

Mrs. Bessie James of Murrayville, died at Our Savior's hospital at midnight Wednesday from injuries received when the large auditorium tent at the Chautauqua grounds was destroyed during a wind storm Wednesday afternoon.

During the storm which destroyed the tent Mrs. James was struck on the top of the head by a falling pole. She was given first aid at the Chautauqua grounds by Dr. G. W. Miller and then rushed to Our Savior's hospital and Dr. J. W. Halgrove was called.

Examination revealed a six-inch linear fracture at the top of the skull. The scalp was also badly lacerated. Dr. Halgrove, assisted by Dr. Miller and Dr. E. D. Canastota performed a trephine compression operation. A piece of the skull was removed and the fractured skull lifted from the brain.

There was considerable bleeding thru the fracture from the inside of the skull, indicating an intra-cranial hemorrhage. Mrs. James suffered from profound shock and concussion of the brain. Dr. Halgrove stated after Mrs. James' death that it was caused from shock.

Mrs. James was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Boruff and was born in Murrayville, May 13, 1876. She grew to womanhood there and was educated in the public schools of that town.

She followed the occupation of school teaching and taught schools at Litterberry and Woodson and last year taught in Springfield. She was highly regarded by her pupils. Her husband, Mr. Clyde Moffett and her sister, Mrs. Clyde Moffett and her brother, Mr. Clyde Moffett of Springfield, were engaged to teach there the coming year.

She is survived by one daughter, Helen James and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Boruff of Murrayville and the following brothers and sisters, C. A. Boruff and Mrs. C. J. Vaughn of this city, Mrs. Clyde Moffett of Murrayville and Carl Boruff of Yorkton, Canada.

Mrs. James was a member of the M. E. church and was a woman of large circle of friends. To these news of her death will be received with genuine regret.

The remains were taken to Murrayville early this (Thursday) morning by Undertaker Thompson of that town. The funeral will be held there. The time of the funeral will not be known until word is received from her brother, Carl Boruff of Canada.

Coroner Rose was notified of Mrs. James' death and jury panelled the following jury: Walter H. Desha, Clifford A. W. S. Hoover, Ralph Briggs, Claude H. Frye and Charles E. Souza. This jury viewed the remains at the hospital this morning and will hold an inquest this afternoon.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Executive clemency for Private Franklin W. Czarnicki, medical corps, who was sentenced to death by military court martial because he left his command at the port of embarkation on the eve of departure overseas, was announced today by the war department.

President Wilson commuted the sentence to dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and confinement at hard labor for two years.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only ally the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source.

Seems Like the Skin is On Fire

The source of eczema is in the blood, the disease being caused by a infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. . for this remedy so thoroughly cleanses the blood that no impurities can remain. Get a bottle today at any drug store, and you will see results from the right treatment. OFFICIAL STATEMENTS the Vesle south of Bazoches and Fismette likewise was arrested by American units.

"Eastern Theater, Aug. 27: There were artillery duels on both banks of the Vardar and in the Cerna Bend. In Albania the Austrians have made only faint-hearted attempts to regain contact at several points with their new front. British aviators bombed enemy camps north of Dolran."

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—In the operations in the Vesle sector the Germans claim to have inflicted severe losses on the Americans and taken more than 250 prisoners. This claim is set forth in the statement from general headquarters today.

"Enemy partial attacks were repulsed near Lanemarck and north of the Lys. General von Below's army was again engaged in heavy fighting yesterday, the center of gravity of the British attack being south of the Scarpe. "North of the Somme the British directed violent attacks against our new lines between Fiers and Curlu. We repulsed them and in a counter-attack we captured Fiers and Longval, where the enemy had temporarily penetrated.

"South of the Somme the enemy's partial thrusts broke down. Between the Somme and the Oise we withdrew our lines a distance from the enemy, thus giving up to him without fighting the heaps of ruins of Chazelles and Roves. "Owing to our successful defense the enemy has been forced to discontinue his attack on this front. This has rendered it possible to carry out movements without difficulty, they have been accomplished undisturbed during the last few nights.

"Between the Oise and the Aisne, fighting activity has been confined to minor infantry engagements. On the Vesle, Mecklenberg Grenadiers frustrated an attack by Americans against Bazoches. Baden troops took Fismette, in the valley of the Vesle, by storm. In both enterprises the enemy suffered heavy losses and left more than 250 prisoners in our hands.

"In the Argonne Italian prisoners were captured as a result of a successful thrust."

TAX DECISION.

In the county court Judge W. E. Thomson has sustained the objections of the railroads to the tax levied against them for county purposes. Objections were originally made to the tax for the county tuberculosis sanatorium. Subsequently, acting on the opinion of Judge Thomson, the roads changed their objections to one against the general levy. Since by this levy a total of 90c is levied for county purposes

LETTER FROM JOHN SLOAN.

11th Corps America E. F., care of
A. P. O. S., No. 18, B. E. F.
16th July, 1918.

My Dear Sister:

Have received several letters from each of you, and it is need- less to say that they were mighty welcome and I enjoyed them im- mense. Now that all three of us are away, letter writing must play a very important part among your indoor sports. I should think it would be a good idea for you to get a duplicate and run them off a ball at a time. Let me caution you not to weaken, however, because I am always anxious to hear of every little thing that happens around dear old 939. There is nothing too trivial to mention—it means a great deal to me and I am sure it does to both James and Francis.

I hope you won't consider mov- ing to Peoria too seriously, that is, unless you are convinced as to the wisdom of the move. I must agree that we should have a little change of scenery along those lines. It is to be regretted that it was not done some years ago, but I hope you will wait until we all are there to help decide the matter; that is, to choose a city where we can all live at home to- gether and follow out our respect- ible occupations and be happy to remain there. I mention these things because your letter seems to hint of moving to Peoria, and that's hardly the right place. However, I could live in Peoria and enjoy life if you were all there with me. I received a let- ter from Bud Harmon the other day, and judging from his letter you were all but packed up for the journey.

He is with the main body of the American army, quite a ways from our sector. I suppose you are reading of the great deeds of our boys during the last few days and I can hardly wait until the 11th corps goes into the American sector. The men in the divisions of this corps are all conscripts, and are just arriving now; they look like mighty fine soldiers, but in some instances it looks as if they weren't very particular as to whom they handed out com- missions. It seems a shame that the boys of my old outfit, who are all so capable and who volun- teered so willingly, are not being given a chance. Every one of them, even the non-commissioned officers, are begging for a trans- fer into some other branch of the service—anything but the medi- cal corps; but nobody seems to care what their wishes are. Their only consolation is in the fact that they were the first Americans to take the field and that they are volunteers.

Just a few days ago I received a letter from James, telling me of his trip to New York, where he spent his furlough and how he wished I could have taken my furlough with him. Altho I can hardly imagine fortune fa- voring me to such an extent as this, I am fully realizing how glad I would be to see one of my good family again. I have seen New York and I think if I ever get that close to Jacksonville once more I will only view New York from the docks to the railway sta- tion. Do not misunderstand me in this. I do not regret the step I have taken; in fact, I wouldn't think of being elsewhere while I can be of some service here.

James said that he was afraid mother was worrying her good health away. I do hope that this is not so and that you are doing all in your power to make her happy. If these are going smoothly at home there really is nothing to worry about; on the contrary, she should be the hap- piest woman in the world, having three sons in the service—all that she could possibly offer. Even if one of us were called upon to make the supreme sacrifice, just think what it would mean to the family in the years to come, to feel that we had helped pay the price for the blessings which are bound to follow the stamping out of German militarism.

Every day hundreds and hun- dreds of good men give their lives for the cause without a murmur. Should this ever be our lot, I hope I will draw the number. I have, however, gone through fifteen months of it in good shape, thank God, and I am extremely confident that your good prayers will bring us all home whole and hearty.

I wrote Agnes a letter about a month ago, which I hope she re- ceived, as it is very difficult for me to write letters; you will realize this when I tell you that I started this letter on the 16th of July and this is the 30th. In ad- dition to the inconveniences of writing, there are very few of the little incidents which go to make up our every day life that I am allowed to tell about. I wish I could bring myself to the point of writing short notes home to you about two or three times a week. I have attempted this once or twice, but after writing them they looked to me that they would hardly fill the bill, so I destroyed them. I want you to let me know if Agnes received my let- ter, because it contained a pic- ture of my good friend Steve Ketchel and a little snapshot of a little pal of mine in Paris that I took myself. I am, also, enclos- ing a picture of Sgt. Bill Baker, who was transferred with me to the Second Corps. As I told Ag- nes, I am sending all of these pic- tures home because I always lose them. I have been extremely fortunate during the last week in receiving letters, and I am now puzzled as to how I am going to get them answered. I received a letter from Anna Danvers, which she termed her Cousin's Day let- ter, and she "called" me plenty for my delinquency in correspon- dence, but she should have been receiving a letter from me about the same time, which ought to have saved my bacon for me for the time being. A number of the Chicago boys have written me stating that they are away here on the job, and they always want to know where they can meet me. This always strikes me as funny, and they will realize how impossible this is once they are assigned to a sector and get down to busi- ness. Unit No. 12 has been in the same sector for the past few days, and their squads and teams are sent out to different points, but never beyond a cer- tain radius.

With the exception of a few trips back to the nearby towns, I never got any place until I was transferred to the 2d corps. I know the location of all the good cafes and restaurants in Belgium and northern France. I have a terrible appetite and when I have the opportunity I eat as many as six meals a day. We are having plenty of rain now, in contrast to the previous nine weeks when at times we had no water to wash in and none to drink; all that we were able to get was used for cooking pur- poses. One night I fell asleep awfully thirsty and I dreamed all night of a wonderful well in a little village some miles from where I was stationed and be- lieve me I certainly beat for that place the next day. I never knew how good water was until that day.

I hope father doesn't have to carry quite as much water for his celery as he did during one or two seasons. Tell him not to work too hard; also, that I wish I were there to help put away some of those roasting ears, that I used to like so well. I never did get enough of them in Chi- cago; in fact, I don't believe they had enough in any one restaur- ant to satisfy my appetite, and there are none at all here.

Best love to all.

JOHN CORRINGTON IN FRANCE

Clifton Corrington recently re- ceived a clipping from a French paper which makes mention of the experiences of Lieut. McDermott of the American army. John Cor- rington, son of Clifton Corrington, is a mechanic in charge of Lieut. McDermott's machine and he evi- dently kept it in good working condition. The paragraphs in the French paper are as follows:
(Special Telegram to Herald.)
By DON MARTIN
With the American Armies.

Nine American aviators late on Tuesday had a combat with nine Germans in the vicinity of Chateau-Thierry. It is certain that four of the German ma- ches came down, none in flames, but all badly disabled. The belief is that each of six of the Americans has one German to his credit. This is of particular interest and importance, because the German fliers in question are, or were, part of a rejuvenated Richthofen virus. Of that virus the Americans who engaged them are sure. The enemy machines were painted precisely as were those used by the original members of the dan- gerous Richthofen group. The fuselages are black and the nose and tail red.

Here are the names of the six American fliers who were in the combat and who are believed to have brought down an aeroplane each:

Lieutenant Ralph A. O'Neill of Nogales, Arizona; Lieutenant John H. Stevens, of Albion, N. Y.; Lieutenant Kenneth L. Parker, of Dowagiac, Mich.; Lieutenant Tyler C. Bronson, of New York City; Lieutenant Cleveland W. McDermott, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Lieutenant Maxwell O. Perry, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Most of the men were making one of the first flights over the enemy lines. They all returned. One had eight bullets in his ma- chine. Lieutenant McDermott, was for some time believed to be lost, but after a trying experience he got back to safety. He was driven more than twenty miles back of the German line, two Germans devoting their attention to him. One wing of his plane was nearly shot off. He managed however, to maneuver himself out of the dangerous position and skidded thru the air to a field on French held territory.

The German fliers were pre- sumably making one of their first flights over the American held sector. They were seeking to de- stroy an American observation machine. A message reporting the fact reached the headquar- ters where the Americans were stopping. The fliers were at din- ner. In a jiffy they were on the run for the sheds and in a very few minutes were whirling their way skyward to seek aerial ad- venture.

They arrived in the nick of time. The Germans were flying at two levels, four rather low and five rather high. The Americans were flying in similar forma- tion. Of the top squadrons the Americans were higher than the Germans. The Germans maneu- vered with much skill and it was not until they had been shot down from the sky that the Ameri- cans that they had someone of experience to deal with. The Americans used all their skill and unquestionably showed superiority over the Germans.

Today there were no Ger- mans over the American line. It has been their custom to fly around at varying heights. The Americans were on the watch to- day, but found no one to give them battle.

FROM JOHN E. YOUNG

The letters printed below have been received by Mrs. Charles C. Young of Oxford, Kansas, from her son, John E. Young, "some- where" in France:
July 6, 1918.

Dear Mother:
I haven't much to write about today but I want to let you know how I let you know I am all right. I am not with Co. L at present and have not been for three weeks. There are 300 of us, all from different companies, taking care of horses and mules and shipping them to the front when needed. I don't know just how long we will be here. You are several miles from the front, out of hearing distance. We are the first American soldiers ever in this town. They certainly treat us royally here. The small chil- dren run about after us and look at us with a great deal of interest.

Some of the French soldiers speak English and William Gaines and I have been chumming with one of them. He invited us out to supper one evening not long ago and it was certainly a fine one. I suppose you are all thru har- vesting and ready to thresh by this time. People here are all thru harvesting and it looks like it would turn out pretty well.

July 18, 1918.
Dear Folks:
Have your letter written some time ago and was glad to know you had received some of my let- ters. It takes some time for mail to come and go, but I will write as often as I can, keeping letters on the way all the time. No. 1, I haven't seen Myrtle since I land- ed in France but was with Enos until about five weeks ago. I am not with the company any more, but the last time I saw the boys they were well.

The boys are in the trenches now, went in July 7. You can look on the map and see where I am now. Am in Tarascon, right on the Rhone river, close to the Mediterranean sea. I have been across France both ways and most of it is rough land. There are some pretty towns. I was in a town (Dijon) last Tuesday which was sure fine place. Another town I visited was Mimes. Saw there an old arena built by Julius Caesar, where they used to have the big bull fights, and where they used to put the Christians and then let the lions eat them. Have seen a great many interesting places since I have been over here.

I suppose you are all busy now with harvesting. I hope the wheat is better than it was last year. Wheat is pretty good here, but they haven't cut all of it yet on account of the labor shortage.

I had some pictures taken not long ago and will send you some as soon as they are finished.
July 25, 1918.

Dear Folks:
I received your letter today and will answer it as soon as I have plenty of time. Had letters from Har- nah, Elizabeth and Sam today and was glad to know all were well.

I have just returned from tak- ing a train load of horses to the artillery, which is located about three hundred miles from where we are camped. I have been rid- ing on the train most of the time since I left Camp Doniphan. It seems, it is awfully warm and dry here and have had but little rain since I arrived in France. I presume you are having quite a lot of rain there now as is gen- erally the case at harvest time.

There is quite a lot of grain standing in the fields yet. I can see some of the farmers are threshing their crops. I say threshing but it is just rolling it out with a lit- tle old roller and a horse hitched to it. They have a few threshing machines too. There does not seem to be much corn raised in this country. It is certainly comi- cal to see the way they go at it here. If they drive four horses they have one hitched in front of the other. They would not know how to hitch four horses abreast as we do at home. And all of their farm wagons are but carts, haven't any four-wheeled wagons at all.

France is not at all what I ex- pected to see. I thought it would be a little more up to date. I can tell you more about it when I get back home, which will be about next spring.

Will close as I haven't much to write and it doesn't sound like anything when I have written it. Love to all.

FROM JOHN COLWELL.

Mrs. Margaret Colwell of Alex- ander has received the following letter from her son John who is in service overseas:

Somewhere in France,
July 30, 1918.

Dear Folks:

That I'd write you a few lines to let you know I'm still here, that everything is lovely. We have been having things pretty good the last week or so, so I'm learning to like France better. I feel right at home when I'm at work, but I miss the Ford or the jitney. I'm getting hardened to the work and also to the hiking. I don't think anything of walking ten or fifteen miles a day and sometimes over twenty miles. I suppose everybody is quiet, busy now. How did George's oats come out. The far- mers raise lots of small grain here and most of the wheat is smooth head. They are thru cut- ting the bearded wheat by now but haven't started on the other yet. They raise lots of beans here, something like the lima beans at home. I've only seen two small patches of corn in France, about one half acre each. I've only seen two bladders in the wheat fields. They cut the grain with a short handled scythe and a hook and tie it by hand. Say I never saw the like of a snail as there. The shrubbery is covered with them in the morning they are all colors. It still rains oc- casionally but I'm getting so I don't mind that I generally have my chains on all the time. Well it is getting dark so will cut off here. You will have to excuse the blots, etc. and don't forget to write often.

With love to all,
John.

She was born on a farm near Manchester and her maiden name was Catherine McCabe. On June 1, 1915, deceased was married to William Foster of Granite City, and their home was established in that city. She is survived by her husband and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. J. J. Murphy and Mrs. John Curtis of this city; Mrs. P. V. Campbell and Ross McCabe of Rochester, N. Y.; Michael McCabe of Alton; James McCabe, Granite City; Pe- ter and John McCabe of Murray- ville. One sister, Mrs. Michael Quinn, died last November.

Holkenbrink.

Funeral services for Benjamin J. Holkenbrink were held from Grace church at 10 o'clock Wed- nesday morning in charge of the Rev. W. W. Theobald. Music was furnished by Miss Cora Gram- ham, Mrs. Wallace Brockman, T. H. Rapp and Mrs. W. G. Gilliam. The flowers were cared for by Miss Lucy Coover, Miss Theresa Boy- lan, Miss Mary Sweeney and Mrs. Smith. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery the bearers being H. H. Vasconcellos, Thomas Duff, Frank Bristow, Charles R. Knellmeyer, C. A. Boruff and W. W. Walton.

Rev. Md. Theobald took as his text Psalms 39-4, "Lord make me to know mine end and the mea- sure of my days, what it is that I may know how frail I am." The minister after reading various passages briefly from this text, he made reference to the useful life that had gone out in such an untimely way and referred to conversation he had with the de- ceased last Sunday. In those final days Mr. Holkenbrink had again expressed his belief in the Savior and his hope of eternal life. Mr. Theobald made special applica- tion of the fact that the death of the deceased at this time was the result of typhoid fever, a preventable disease.

"Death is due to sin" the min- ister said, "and in this instance it was the result of a community's sin, for neglect of important sanitary rules had brought about a local condition which has made typhoid fever prevalent. The minister voiced the thought that this death might not be in vain and the city might thus be led to realize the situation resulting from neglect and thus better conditions. Words of comfort were spoken to the sorrowing fam- ily and Mr. Theobald also gave the principal facts about Mr. Holkenbrink's useful life. He had been a resident of Jackson- ville for a period of many years and those who admired the sterling qualities of his character were many.

At the cemetery the ritual of the Modern Woodmen was car- ried out. John N. Joaquin serving as venerable council and Charles R. Knellmeyer as worthy adviser. The remains were laid to rest in a grave made beautiful with flowers.

CORTLAND J. MILLER KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Farmer Met Death at Ryan and Whalen Elevator in Yocmans—Was 31 Years of Age—Leaves Wife and Three Children—Coroner Rose Held In-quest.

Cortland J. Miller, a farm hand in the employ of W. A. Ryan, residing four and one half miles south of Alexander, was instantly killed by lightning at the elevator in Yocmans about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Following his death Coroner Rose was notified and went to Yocmans Wednesday evening and held an inquest. The jury which was composed of Noel Wiley, foreman; James G. Strawn, Charles S. Watts, J. B. Wright, L. J. Massie and J. J. Luekeman heard the evidence.

Coroner's Verdict.

William A. Ryan and G. W. Bender were present at the time. After hearing their versions the jury returned a verdict that Mil- ler came to his death by a stroke of lightning in the Yocmans' ele- vator about 4 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, August 28, 1918.

According to the testimony of Mr. Ryan and Mr. Bender they in company with Miller were in the elevator about 4 o'clock Wed- nesday afternoon. Mr. Bender had driven in with a load of wheat and it was raining when he arrived.

Witness said he and Miller had dumped the load of wheat and he had climbed on the bed of the wagon. Miller seated himself at the foot of the straw dump. There came a flash of lightning and Miller fell over on the floor.

Mr. Ryan said he picked Mil- ler up and was afterward aided by Mr. Bender. The bolt of lightning had knocked down one of the horses hitched to Ben- der's wagon and the other was trying to run away. After Ben- der got them under control he went to the assistance of Ryan.

Dead Before Doctor Arrived.
Dr. Fred Metcalf was summoned from Franklin and arrived on the scene in about twenty minutes. He pronounced Miller dead when he arrived. A train crew of a freight waiting at Yocmans also saw Miller after he was struck and pronounced him dead.

Cortland J. Miller was 31 years of age at the time of death. He was born and had resided in the vicinity of Alexander all his life and had always followed the occupation of farming. He is sur- vived by his widow and three children, LeRoy, aged eight years, Lloyd aged six years and Howard aged two years.

Mother Killed by Lightning.
A peculiar coincidence of the tragedy was the fact that 23 years ago Miller's mother was killed by a bolt of lightning. Miller at the time about three years of age was holding to her dress at the time but suffered no injury.

Funeral services will be held at Union Baptist church. The time has not been fixed.

POPULAR EVEN IN FRANCE
About a month ago, Capt. Swales gave one of his cards to a gentleman who has a son in the American army "somewhere in France." The top line on the card reads "I went over the top for you; won't you do that much for me?" The son wrote back to his father in Jacksonville and among other things said: "I vote for Captain Swales for commissioner and I wish I was there to give him a lift. He stands solid with all the boys from Morgan county who are over here on account of the way he and his old comrade of the Grand Army inspired us as they escorted us to the railway station with music and fluttering banners. Put him over the top for us boys over here and tell him we are for him to the last mother's son of us."

In view of the fact that he seems so popular in far off lands, Capt. Swales is expected to hear from friends in Macedonia and Italy in an early mail.

Boston Scores Shutout

Boston, Aug. 28.—Sam Jones held Detroit to three hits today and Hooper's batting enabled Boston to win, 3 to 0. Hooper opened the first by doubling and scored on Strunk's single. FRED DE FREITAS MET DEATH IN ACCIDENT

Former Resident Here Killed By Railroad Train at Los Angeles—Sister-in-Law Read of Accident and Identified Body.

Word was received in the city yesterday of the death of Fred DeFreitas, which occurred in Los Angeles. According to the message Mr. DeFreitas was killed by a railroad train. The message said that Mr. DeFreitas' body was badly mangled and that the body had been identified by his sister-in-law, Mrs. George DeFreitas, who had read of the accident in the papers.

Fred DeFreitas was about 37 years old and was born in Jacksonville, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian DeFreitas of West Lafayette avenue. He made Jacksonville his home for several years and was in the dairy business, being employed by J. W. Baptist.

Several years ago Mr. DeFreitas went to California and has made Los Angeles his home for some time.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian DeFreitas, five brothers, George of Los Angeles; Roy, of Hanover, Ill.; Richard, of San Francisco Cal.; John of St. Joseph, Mo., and William of this city. One sister, Mrs. James Nunes also survives.

Mr. DeFreitas was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Burial will be made in Los Angeles.

FROM COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Cowpeas Growing in Corn.—H. H. Hansmeyer has followed the practice on his farm east of Concord of seeding cowpeas among the corn at the last cultivation. When the corn is sufficiently matured, he turns in the hogs and harvests corn and cowpeas at the same time. The cowpea ranks along with the soybean as a soilbuilder. At present Mr. Hansmeyer has fine crops of corn on this field and does not see that the cowpeas have in anyway injured the corn but on the contrary thinks they actually help the corn when seeded as he does. Mr. Hansmeyer has another field of cowpeas which he expects to harvest for hay.

Farmers' Program at the Chautauqua.—Quite a number of farmers are regular attendants at the Chautauqua and many others have said they are going to take the day off on Friday and hear the special program. Many counties have an annual picnic under the direction of the farm bureau and as the work progresses in this county it is hoped that the custom may be established here. The special program Friday is a step in that direction. Come out to hear Sidney Smith and William G. Eckhart.

Need of a City Market.—On some days the man who starts out to buy eatables for his family is surprised at the scarcity of home grown fruit, vegetables and other farm products. A trip thru the country will reveal much that might be a source of profit to both producer and consumer if some general provision could be made for bringing producer and consumer together as at a city market. Many farmers do not market their surplus farm produce because the grocers cannot handle any great quantities and the farmers do not like to peddle the produce. A city market is needed to popularize the movement.

The Price of Wheat.—The question often heard is "What is the food administration going to do for the farmers who had to sell their grain for $2.05 when he should in justice have had $2.10 or $2.11. As yet this office has had no official information as to the intention of the food administration. Whatever develops will be given the utmost publicity thru the papers and circular letters.

You'll Be Sorry

There is no worse folly nor one more certain of distressing consequence than to neglect a cold. If it leaves "a cough that hangs on," it threatens you with a most serious condition.

Foley's Honey and Tar gives the curative influence of the pine balsam, together with the mollifying effect of the honey and other healing ingredients. It stops the cough, eases the sore feeling in the chest, and raises phlegm easily. It imparts a pleasant feeling of warmth and comfort.

J. D. Enterkin, Winston, Ga., writes:—"Foley's Honey and Tar took all the soreness away and cleared my lungs of congestion."

Emphatically Asserts Worn Out, Lagging Men Can Quickly Become Vigorous and Full of Ambition

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

Don't blame the man who is perpetually tired; his blood needs more red corpuscles and his brain and nerves are craving for food. Given the right kind of medicine any tired-out, inactive, lagging fellow can quickly be made into a real, live, energetic and even ambitious man.

So says a student of the nervous system who advises all men and women who feel worn out and who find it hard to get up ambition enough to take a regular job to get a package of Bio-feron at any drugstore.

This is the new discovery that pharmacists are recommending because it is not expensive and speedily puts vigor and ambition into people who despaired of ever amounting to anything in life.

People whose nerves have been wrecked by too rapid living, too much tobacco or alcohol, have regained their old-time confidence and energy in less than two weeks. No matter from what cause your nerves went back on you; no matter how run down, nervous or tired out you are, get an original package of Bio-feron at once. Take two tablets after each meal and one before bed-time—seven a day for seven days—then one after each meal till all are gone.

Then if you still lack ambition; if your nerves are not steady and you haven't the energy that red-blooded, keen-minded men possess, your purchase money will be gladly returned.

Note to Physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feron. It is printed on every package. Here it is: Leithin; Calcium Glycophosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Glycerin; Capsicum; Kola.

CITY COUNCIL MET IN BRIEF SESSION

Appropriate Reference Made to Death of Mr. Cox. Thirty Nine Cases of Typhoid Fever Reported.

A brief session of the city council was held Wednesday morning adjourned from Monday morning on account of the sudden death of Commissioner Cox. Due recognition was made of the death of the commissioner in a brief statement from Mayor Rodgers and the fact that a wreath of galax leaves had been placed on the chair where Mr. Cox formerly had his seat in the council. At a subsequent meeting suitable resolutions concerning Mr. Cox's death will be placed upon the city records. The council yesterday granted the petition of the board of education for authority to construct a tunnel under Jordan street to carry the pipes from the heating plant to the David Prince building. The matter was presented to the board by Thomas Hopper and Henry Muehlhausen, together with J. K. C. Pierson, architect. The tunnel will be 4 by 5 feet in its general dimensions, with reinforced concrete top and brick wall.

Mr. Vasconcellos indicated that there has been some trouble with the pump at the south side station. He said that the recent rain helped the water supply only a very little and that pumping from the lake has been resumed. Mr. Martin made a report for the health department indicating that there have been 58 cases of typhoid fever in Jacksonville this year, there being 39 now. The number of deaths recorded from this disease has been four.

LIEUT. DOOCY WINS HONORABLE MENTION

Dispatches to the Sunday dailies from the battle front contained the news that our own Lieut. Elmer Doocy has received honorable mention for bravery in the recent offensive. He went outside the lines and in plain view of the enemy machine gun snipers carried a wounded officer to safety. He also led an attack, which captured two machine guns. The dispatches stated that Elmer remained on duty two days, thru a heavy fire of high explosive shells and a gas attack.

In a letter received by friends here since the battle, Elmer tells of the awful conflict, saying that they held the hill from Wednesday to Friday amid a perfect rain of shells. His company was so badly wiped up that they had to take two battalions to make one. He spoke of being hit twice with shrapnel, but only scratched by each.—Pike County Democrat.

SMALL CHILD IS KILLED BY TRUCK

Six Years Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Menezes Meets Instant Death — Truck Driven By Bert White—Coroner Rose Will Hold Inquest Today.

Kather Lucile Menezes, six years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Menezes of 318 Yates street, was run over by a truck driven by Bert White shortly before noon Wednesday and received injuries which caused her death shortly afterward.

The accident occurred at the corner of Yates and Madison streets. The child was first taken to her home. When it was seen that her injuries were perhaps fatal she was taken to Our Savior's Hospital by James Hart and Frank Sullivan. Death occurred shortly after she reached the hospital and before the arrival of a physician.

The child with several other children were playing in Yates street when Bert White drove by with a truck owned by Fletcher Blackburn. The children all jumped on the running board of the truck to take a ride.

When the truck reached the corner of Yates and Madison streets the driver slowed down for the turn. All the children alighted safely except the Menezes child who in some manner lost her footing and fell under the truck, the hind wheel passing across her neck.

The driver of the truck, Bert White, stopped as soon as he saw what had occurred and gave all assistance in his power. He applied the brakes to the car in an endeavor to avoid running over the child but was unable to prevent the accident. He greatly regrets the sad tragedy, tho not in the least to blame.

Following the child's death Coroner Rose was notified and the body was removed to the undertaking parlors of W. W. Gilham and prepared for burial.

They were married Oct. 12, 1903, and have lived together until recently on their farm home a few miles from Murraville. The complainant charges her husband with drunkenness and infidelity, naming Mrs. Bernice Helmlich as co-respondent. CAPT. CARRIEL WRITES FROM WAR FRONT

Describes Bombing of City By German Airmen — Americans Can Fight.

The Daily Mining Journal, published at Marquette, Mich., in a recent issue publishes a letter from Capt. Howard T. Carriel, who is stationed at base hospital No. 66 in France. During Captain Carriel's absence abroad Mrs. Carriel is spending part of her time with relatives in Morgan and Sangamon counties.

Previous reference has been made in the Journal to the splendid work that Capt. Carriel is doing abroad and the special honor that has been shown him in the way of large material responsibility. The article from the Mining Journal reads as follows:

A letter from Dr. H. T. Carriel, the only Marquette physician in France, who is stationed at Base Hospital No. 66 where he and two other surgeons do all the operating for the institution of 1,000 beds, tells of his experiences on a hurry-up call to Evacuation Hospital No. 4. He writes under date of July 23:

"I have been away from here six days, helping to care for the wounded at the front at Evacuation Hospital No. 4. They sent a call here, and to other base hospitals to send up surgeons to help care for the men who were wounded early Monday by the terrific bombardment of the German artillery at the opening of their last offensive. We came back here by the way of Paris, and spent two days there.

"I was at Versailles, the billet of Louis the 14th to see the place and the crowd and hear the battle of all nations play as it was a Belgian national holiday. A big crowd was there, including the soldiers of all the allied nations. It was the most interesting to watch the people.

Huns Try to Bomb Hospital

"At Evacuation Hospital, No. 4, we operated up to 2:30 a. m. Thursday. The wounded stopped coming in as suddenly as they started except in such small numbers that the local staff could take care of itself. It was a wonderful experience, operating in the same big tent along side of surgeons of international reputation—expedients. While we were all in the tent and busy a Boche plane tried to bomb the hospital. One bomb landed and exploded 200 feet from us and the end of the rows of tents containing these shell wounded patients. It landed 200 feet away and in a field adjoining. Luckily it did not harm anyone.

"This place is three miles behind a large town that some of the German officers we captured had written orders in their pockets to take, and billet their men there the night of the first day's offensive. It is now nearly nine days. They have not arrived yet, and have apparently stopped trying to come that short distance.

Americans Can Fight.

"It was an interesting sight to see from three miles away the German planes bombing this city, six search lights searching out the planes and shrapnel from the anti-aircraft guns continually bursting in the sky and clouds. I watched this from the window of my room in a little village near the hospital, as they had no room for us to sleep at the hospital. I was watching when a German plane made the village a visit and I remained at the window until a bomb landed so near that the concussion knocked me out of the window back into the room. Then I decided I had seen about enough of that sight, be it ever so interesting.

"I thought that perhaps I was prejudiced about the American soldiers, but since many French have said to me that the Americans can surely fight, I have about decided that it must be true. The wounded are taken good care of, but it is horrible to see so many large wounds made by fragments of shells.

"While walking among them one does not hear a single complaint. They are either silent or joking among themselves. One's heart would go out to them less if they were only less patient, less brave and more complaining.

"Well, I am back to 66 again, after a wonderful trip. After leaving Evacuation Hospital No. 4, I rode in an auto from one end of the present German offensive to the other, just a short distance behind our lines, and on into Paris."

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD IN OKLAHOMA.

A letter was received yesterday by Sheriff Gaff from authorities at Sapulpa, Okla., asking for any information about Charles Dowd, at one time resident of this city, now believed to have met death by foul play near Sapulpa. A similar letter of inquiry was received by the police department. The correspondence gives no facts other than that the dead body of a man not yet certainly identified had been found by the roadside. Earlier someone had discovered and turned over to the authorities a grip containing some letters written to Charles Dowd by County Clerk C. A. Boruff of this city, and a pass book showing that Charles Dowd had an account in the Holdenville bank.

A scrawled letter indicated that the writer had been attacked and wounded and had penned the lines in the belief that he would die before help came. The letter said: "I was killed by the old man at the wagon." In the vicinity of where the accident or tragedy took place an old Mexican was found and placed under arrest. The man talked in an incoherent way and could give no satisfactory explanation of affairs. If the dead man was Charles Dowd, formerly of this city, he will be remembered by a number of residents here as a nephew of the late Charles Dowd, who left Jacksonville many years ago.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE NAMED AT CAPPS MILLS

Government Requested Organization for Directing Patriotic Activities—Various Departments Represented.

Acting in response to the request of the United States department of labor, a war industries committee has been organized among the employees of J. Capps & Sons. It is the policy of the government to organize such committees in every plant engaged in war work. The committee here, as is the rule elsewhere, will have charge of all patriotic work.

The Committee Work.
This work the government outlines in the following way:
Calling of meetings when government representatives are sent to address the men.

Arranging for the distribution of government literature.
Arranging parades and other patriotic demonstrations.
Keeping all informed on war matters and government activities, so that, knowing their country's needs, both employers and employees will eagerly respond to the call of duty.

The committee in each plant consists of a representative of each department or shop and in no case shall there be less than three members. It is the further request of the department of labor that the owner of the business also have a representative on the committee. The chairman of the plant committee is nominated by the committee, subject to the approval and appointment by the secretary of labor as a government representative.

In accordance with this request a meeting of employees was recently held. At that time H. M. Capps acted as temporary chairman and read the letter from the department of labor, suggesting that the committee be formed after the plan had been explained.

John McGlothlin was chosen as chairman and Wood Phillips as secretary.

Department Representatives.
Representing the Woolen Mills—John McGlothlin and Charles Hopkins.

Representing the Clothing Factory—Charles Reinhardt and Mrs. Myrtle Sargent.

Representing the Employer—Harry M. Capps, President of J. Capps & Sons.

Subsequently the committee held a meeting and Mr. McGlothlin was nominated as chairman. His name, together with other facts related to the action taken, have been transmitted to the department of labor and early approval of the action taken is expected.

The evident purpose of the government in requesting the formation of such a committee is to increase the cordial relationships of the workers and also to bring about a broader and better understanding of government activities along patriotic lines. As has been previously mentioned, the Capps mills are now working on government orders in the production of clothing for soldiers' uniforms. While a large contract was taken, the fact of the work being done on this contract has made possible the securing of raw material and the mills now have a larger number of employees than ever before.

Wages at High Mark.

As a result of this activity the employment conditions in both the woolen mills and the clothing factories are the best that have ever prevailed. The wages paid are on the highest scale in the entire history of the industry and in the local establishment, at least, the personnel of employees is of a very high grade. The establishment is running at full capacity in all departments and there are positions open constantly in the various departments, both for skilled workers and for those who are learning. This particularly applies to women and girls, and the management is continually seeking for additions to the force of workers.

While in several departments the work is somewhat difficult, the spinning and weaving in the woolen mills is comparatively easy. At the excellent wages now paid this is an attractive work and the same fact applies to the clothing factory, where seamstresses are in constant demand. At the Capps mills, as at other establishments, the number of women employees is constantly showing an increase because of the present war conditions and the taking of so many men into army service. The list of women employees at the Capps mills now shows the names of many women and girls who, under usual conditions, do not feel the call to daily wage employment. Now, however, with the higher salaries paid and the prevailing feeling that women who work in war industries are making a patriotic contribution to the war cause, many more women and girls are finding employment. The hours of work at the Capps mills are from 7 a. m. to 12 and from 1 p. m. to 5:30 p. m. The mills close in all departments Saturday noon.

DISCUSS SUCCESSOR FOR MR. COX.

The question of a successor to the late Jerry Cox as member of the city council is now being discussed. Mayor Rodgers and members of the council when asked about the matter indicate that at this time they have no statement for publication. The commission form law specifies that in case of the death or removal of a member of the council, that the remaining members shall within 30 days elect his successor. It seems therefore, according to the reading of the law, that the question of appointing a commissioner is not optional with the commission but is obligatory under the law.
